THE HOME TOWN IS THE TEST

Any manufacturer who can do a big business in his home town has a product that you can depend upon.

Our severest critics are our neighbors, associates and relatives and the severest critics of a business are the people who live next door to it. Securing his home town business is the acid test of any manufacturer.

Thirty per cent of all the homes in Marshall are heated by WOLVERINE Furnaces—that's proof that the goods and the makers are worthy of your patronage. Are you one of the 70 per cent who are not securing full comfort in winter? If you are, telephone to us today and find out what it will cost you to have a WOLVERINE.

MARSHALL

The Gem City of Southern Michigan

Situated on the beautiful Kalamazoo River, in what is known as the richest agricultural section of Michigan, the City of Marshall is by far the most picturesque town between Detroit and Chicago.

The Main Line of the Michigan Central R. R. which is a part of the through line of the New York Central System, intersects here with the Allegan Division. Eighteen passenger trains daily.

The M. U. R. Electric System has hourly cars East and West, with through service every other hour between Detroit and Kalamazoo.

Marshall owns its Water and Electric Plant, which is not surpassed by any in the State. An abundant supply of water power renders possible the furnishing of electric power and light at a minimum rate.

The City is favored with an inexhaustible supply of the purest spring water, piped from a central pumping station to a mammoth tower and from there distributed to every part of the town.

Its streets are lighted by the very latest and most up-to-date electric-post-light system. The sanitary sewage is new and according to modern ideas.

Modern hotels, stately churches, first class public school buildings and a splendid high school give the City an equipment for convenience and educational facilities second to none in the State.

Marshall is famed for its wide streets, which in the residence section are shaded with fine old oaks, majestic elms, a variety of beautiful maples and other species of shade and ornamental trees too numerous to mention. This, together with the modern and cozy homes and pretty lawns, gives the visitor an impression not soon to be forgotten.

The climate is healthful and this region is famed for its cool and delightful summers. The rigor of the winter months, the extremities of which are felt more or less in all of the Northern States, is here tempered by the surrounding waters of the Great Lakes.

The proximity of several small lakes and of the Kalamazoo River affords fine opportunity for boating and fishing during the summer season.

Last but not least is attention called to the splendid Commercial, Financial and Industrial advantages that are here obtained. Marshall is proud of having in its midst two of the soundest financial institutions in the State—the First National Bank, founded in 1840, and the Commercial Savings Bank.

Worthy industries and reliable manufacturers who wish to relocate their plants, or establish new lines of enterprise will find it to their advantage to look the City of Marshall over, or address the Secretary of the Marshall Board of Commerce.

FOREWORD

The publisher of the present volume takes great pleasure in presenting it to the public of Marshall; and he does so with the belief that this new City Directory will be found handy and dependable. Certain new features will be discovered in the make-up of the book, which will add materially to its value for every day uses. For the first time there will be found a complete entry of every street, with a complete system of numbering—a desideratum in any city. Great care has been exercised in this department of the work. The novel features of both the street and alphabetical sections will be thankfully received. A set of instructions for the use of each section will be found at its beginning. To say that no errors will be found would itself be a most palpable error. But this volume is put forth with the knowledge that the error account has been reduced to the minimum; and with the confidence that the many new and usable features will more than offset any regrettable mistakes.

A careful estimate, made in the usual way and on the basis of the information actually taken, gives Marshall a population of 5,175.

This is gratifying, we are sure. The publisher desires to take occasion here and now to express his gratitude to all concerned for assistance in any way given to make this volume a success.

STREET DIRECTORY

OF

Marshall, Michigan

1914

NOTE—A faithful effort has been put forth to make this, the first public record of the names and numbers of the streets of this city, complete and reliable in every way. That some errors may be detected goes without saying; the compiler had no guide to his work save his own ingenuity. We believe this record will be found highly serviceable. Ownership and rentalship are indicated by "O" and "R" respectively. Those holding property on contract are classed as owners. The strict accuracy of each of the entries cannot be guaranteed for obvious reasons. The sign † following a name indicates the location of a telephone at that number.

MARSHALL, MICH.

NOTE—The compiler begs the indulgence of the users of this book so far as the spelling of family names is concerned. The greatest care has been exercised in the case of both the American and foreign spellings. The sign * following a name indicates the "head of a house;" the numeral indicates the number in the family, and here only relative accuracy is secured, for obvious reasons.
